About Bandırma

Bandırma is a large town in northwestern Turkey on the Sea of Marmara. Its current population is 154.000. It's a district of Balıkesir. This large town is known as a commercial center with its harbor serving as a point of trade between Istanbul and Izmir. The town is surrounded by road and rail connections to other cities or urban areas. It's only two and half hours from Istanbul by ferry, so it can be considered quite close to one of the biggest metropolitan cities of the world. It's also 100 kms from Bursa, which is a historical and industrial city. 170 kms on the west is the city of Çanakkale, which is full of historical monuments extending from the time of ancient Troy to Turkish Independence War.
